WOW

CALENDAR

← WOW can bring any date field into the calendar format. The end user can click on any event to drill down and even update the event in the DB (and the calendar) ↓
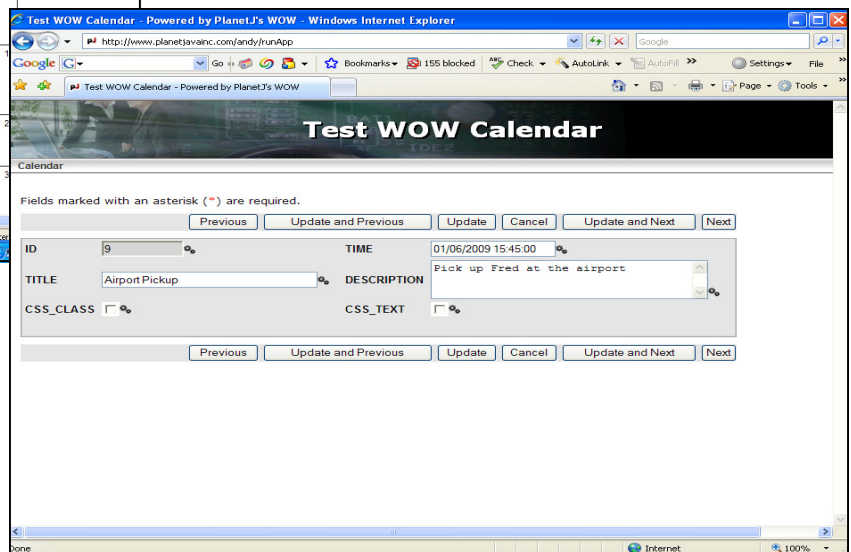

WOW Calendar add-on product will allow the user to create a dynamic, data-driven calendar using information directly from any DB. Deliver, meetings, classes, etc. If there is a time-stamp field in the database, the WOW Calendar add-on will help you keep track of and inform others of these work related functions.

- Colors can be changed automatically—alerting end users to an important event
- Drill down features—auto update your back end data directly from the calendar
- Search for specific events
- Manage events and post new ones in real time
