WHAT WE DO

APPLICATION DESIGN & ARCHITECTURE

Using advanced Object Oriented techniques and the WOW software product, we can help your company design and architect your web application.

APPLICATION DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

We have certified Java developers and experts who can help your company implement and test your application. Whether you want to extend an existing WOW application or re-do or enhance your company's ERP, PlanetJ staff can turn around applications faster than any of our competitors.

EDUCATION FOR YOUR STAFF

We have educated hundreds of programmers on the use of the WOW software product, Java, VisualAge, and WebSphere.

COMPETITIVE RATES

At PlanetJ Corporation, we understand that IT managers are often strapped to a strict budget. Outsourcing may not be a usual consideration. However, PlanetJ development services have proved to provide outstanding ROI – we have the fastest tool and the experts to work with it. To receive an application quote or a contract for hourly services, contact our business staff today at (760) 432-0600 or INFO@PLANETJAVAINC.COM

We are a group of former IBM laboratory developers and consultants who formed PlanetJ to provide services and education. Throughout the years, we discovered that most organizations wanted to create the same "types" of applications to service customers, vendors, and employees. This repetitious application behavior led to the birth of the award-winning WOW product. WOW, built with 100% Java framework has allowed hundreds of companies to make the leap to the Web without the need to learn traditional web development skills.

PlanetJ has extensive experience in development and consulting with the products you are using – WOW, DB2, VisualAge, and WebSphere. PlanetJ staff has been directly involved in the development, installation, and support of many Java based applications.
